

Equal fallback scores need not give equal decisions across methods: each method retains its own frozen acceptance threshold.